DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 12-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Michelson 5,484,437 which discloses the invention as claimed noting figures 2-4, 12-13 comprising: (I) a distraction spacer (120) with a main body; first and second diametrically opposed surfaces (see fig. 3) having leading end and trailing ends (122, 128) with a longitudinal axis; wherein the diametrical opposed surfaces converge towards the longitudinal axis from the trailing end to the leading; (II) a tap (280) having a shaft (286) with a longitudinal axis; a head (294) at the distal end of the shaft; a tapping thread (282) at least partially surrounding the head wherein the thread includes a plurality of peaks and valleys (where it is inherent that the cutting ridges 296 equate to peaks and valleys) around the head with a leading end tap diameter adjacent a distal end of the head; wherein the trailing end tap diameter (292) is greater than the leading end tap diameter, and the leading end tap diameter (294) is substantially equal to an implant leading end diameter; wherein the spacer comprises a frustro-conical shape (3b); opposing flat surfaces substantially equal to a desired degree of lordosis (3a); an internal axial threaded bore at the trailing end (114); an annular groove at the trailing end (128); wherein the tapping thread comprises a sharp radial extremity (296).

Double Patenting

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-11 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-13 of U.S. Patent No. 6,165,219.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the current claims are merely reworded in a broader manner.

Claims 12-17 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-38 of U.S. Patent No. 6,740,091. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the current claims are merely reworded in a broader manner.
